MISSOURI TOWN FIELD TRIPS

Choose one of the programs below for your History Adventure!

Bring Missouri history to life at Missouri Town Living History Museum. An 1850s town is represented with authentic period buildings across 22 sloping acres and interpreters demonstrating everyday lifestyles of the times. Please note that group size includes all attendees, including students, teachers, aides and younger siblings. Lunch space is available on site.

EXPLORE MISSOURI TOWN (Self-Guided Tour) – Approximately 1 hour

Explore 25+ historic structures spread across our recreated historic village at your own pace. As you visit, you'll meet living history interpreters dressed in 19th-century clothing sharing information about life in the 1850s. You'll also have the chance to say hello to our heritage breed livestock, including sheep, chickens, oxen and more!

Cost: $3.00 per student

Group size: Minimum 40; Maximum 120

ON THE JOB: WORKING IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Approximately 1.5 hours

Students will receive a presentation on our heritage breed livestock, a presentation on a 19th century job with one of the Missouri Town living history interpreters, followed by a self-guided tour of our village or historic buildings.

Presentations may cover farming, blacksmithing, hearth cooking, textile production, tin-smithing, children's chores, school and education, or more. Requests for a specific presentation will be considered but cannot be guaranteed.

Cost $4.00 per student

Group size: Minimum 40; Maximum 80

HANDS ON HISTORY: LIFE IN A MISSOURI TOWN

Approximately 2 hours

Meet the citizens of Missouri Town! Students will break into small groups and rotate between several stations set throughout the historic village, where our living history interpreters will share different aspects of 19th-century life.

Presentations may cover farming and livestock care, blacksmithing, hearth cooking, textile production, tin-smithing, children's chores, school and education, or more. Requests for a specific presentation will be considered but cannot be guaranteed.
